

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election is a clear example of the dangers of media consolidation.

Sinclair uses the public airwaves free of charge, and is obligated by law to serve the public interest.

It's decision to pre-empt regular schedules (at all stations it controls) with politically charged negative campaigning goes beyond what we as a public can support or trust in broadcasting.

The FCC must step in immediately and do its job by acting to prevent this blatant abuse of our airways.

Thank you.
